ANNOUNCEMENT

SUBJECT: POES Project NOAA-N Post Launch Learning Observations

The POES Project will present an overview of the purpose and mission of the NOAA series of satellites and some observations on lessons learned from the NOAA-N launch.

This session is jointly sponsored by the Flight Programs and Projects Directorate (Code 400) and the Office of Mission Success (Code 170) to share timely and relevant information about Goddard projects with the Goddard community. All Goddard missions are expected to make a 1-hour presentation open to all Center personnel within 60 days of launch, explaining the science of the mission and the preliminary lessons learned from the project.

For further information, please contact Dr. Ed Rogers, the Center Knowledge Management Architect on extension 6-4467.

Richard M. Day
Director of Mission Success
